

Shades of Green

Shop on the spectrum for a range of eco-friendly options | BY HOLLIE DEESE

DIAPERS

- Made with renewable resources. Earth's Best TenderCare diapers come in a four-pack of 30 diapers each. $46.48, Walmart
- Reusable gPants from gDiapers work with disposable inserts. Prices begin at $17.99 for gPants; inserts are $14.99 for a pack of 32; gdiapers.com
- The GroVia Hybrid Experience Package combines two reusable shells with four washable inserts. $66, gro-via.com

DISH TOWELS

- Seventh Generation paper towels are made from 100 percent recycled materials. $2.99, Walgreens
- Wash and reuse these super-absorbent Food Network plaid antimicrobial towels. $15.99 for two, Kohl's
- This set of washable Tidy dishcloths by Full Circle is made from 100 percent organic cotton. $5.95, williams-sonoma.com

BOOKS

- The Viking Press, publisher of The Invention of Wings by Sue Monk Kidd, uses paper made by companies that replant trees. $27.95, booksellers
- Trade used paperbacks with members of Paperbackswap.com. Free to recipients; shipping costs vary
- End the paper trail and pack thousands of books into a 7-inch Kindle Fire HDX. $229 for 16 GB; $269 for 32 GB; amazon.com

WATER BOTTLES

- At least 1 percent of sales of Fiji Water goes to fund clean water in rural areas. Home delivery plans begin at $37.50, fijivater.com
- Impact-resistant Nalgene OTF (On-The-Fly) water bottle is BPA-free. $11.95, rei.com
- Twenty-four-ounce Blue Fade water bottle is made in America with locally sourced materials. $11.99, polarbottle.com