

GET YOUR KIDS READY FOR SUMMER

KEEP THEIR BODIES MOVING AND THEIR BRAINS HUMMING WITH THESE GREAT FINDS

BATHING BEAUTY

Ruffles at the adjustable halter-tie neck and along the bottom add up to a suit that's extra girly. But this style is not just for show: It has an ultraviolet protection factor (UPF) of 50+ and wards off the sun's dangerous rays.

Halter one-piece suit for girls, sizes 2-14, $32; garnethill.com.

WHEEL COOL

Tots who aren't quite ready to join Shaun White on the half-pipe can ease into things with this scaled-down wooden skateboard that looks as rad as the big kids' styles.

Mini Fat Cruiser skateboard (23"), Kryptonics, $40; at Target.

EPIC PAIL

Kids can use this water-resistant bucket to haul beach toys or shower gear at camp. Drainage holes keep the contents dry, while the collapsible design makes for easy storage.

Collapsible bucket, $24; garnethill.com.

STICK IT TO 'EM

So you don't lose your little ones at the beach, pack these waterproof stickers. Label your kids with emergency contact information using the included pen.

Temporary tattoos, $11 for 6; safetytat.com.

SIP, SIP, HURRAY!

Made of BPA- and BPS-free material, this leakproof, dishwasher-safe water bottle is great for little hands and carries a lifetime guarantee.

On-the-Fly bottle (12 oz.), Nalgene, $8; at Target.

SHOOTING STAR

For some kids, summer's not summer without a monster water gun. This one offers double trouble: It fires streams that can travel up to 22 feet and also blasts foam "torpedoes."

Nerf Super Soaker Tidal Torpedo 2-in-1 Water Blaster, $15; hasbrotoyshop.com.

TOOTSIE POP

These water shoes are made of chlorine- and salt-resistant rubber that's antimicrobial and odor-resistant. The shoes protect the feet against UV rays. And did we mention they're adorable?

Water shoes, sizes 8-13, $20; uvskinz.com.

DON'T MISS THE BOAT

For your budding engineer: A kit for building a battery-powered motorboat (as well as a telegraph machine and an electric bell and buzzer).

Motor Boat Madness, Scientific Explorer, $24; alexbrands.com.
